

Please join EPA

on Thursday, January 10, 2008,
from 10:00 - 11:30 am
as we recognize leaders in radon-resistant new construction and the winners of the children's National Radon Poster Contest.

Thursday, January 10, 2008
10:00 - 11:30 am

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)
Room TBD at EPA Headquarters, Washington, DC

January is National Radon Action Month! Please join EPA and representatives from government, non-profit organizations, private industry, and communities across the country to recognize the accomplishments of radon leaders from the public and private sectors. To RSVP, please click here or send an e-mail to radonevents@cadmusgroup.com by January 3, 2008.

Schedule of Events

Welcome and Introduction 10:00-10:15

Join the national Radon Leaders Saving Lives campaign to help reduce exposure to indoor radon and double the number of lives saved within five years.

New National "Build Green" Radon Media Campaign 10:15-10:30

View EPA's new radon messages encouraging people to live greener, healthier lives by building radon-resistant homes. The new campaign features builder and former National Football League player Fuad Reveiz.

Recognition of Radon Leaders 10:30-10:50

Celebrate the accomplishments of national leaders in radon and radon-resistant new construction from the public and private sectors.

Recognition of National Radon Poster Contest Winners 10:50-11:05

Announce the winners of the National Safety Council's 2008 National Radon Poster Contest.

Closing Remarks 11:05-11:10

Congratulate the Poster Contest winners and the radon leaders. Make a commitment to continued success in radon awareness and risk reduction.

Radon Networking & Displays 11:10-11:30

Mingle with attendees and view radon-resistant new construction displays.